A Decade of Investing in our People

Laurence Jackson has recently received a certificate from Investors in People UK, celebrating the fact that our organisation has been recognised as an Investor in People for over ten years. LJS joins a group of over 3 000 organisations, representing businesses of all sizes and sectors, who have successfully achieved this milestone.

Mr Tulloch, who has a long association with Investors in People, successfully leading the school through two rigorous external assessments said, 'This is a fantastic achievement demonstrating an ongoing dedication to the school's most important resource, its people, and a commitment to our continuous improvement. We look forward to our next assessment in June, where an external assessor will review the work of the school and carry out interviews with a representative sample of staff drawn from a variety of different roles and responsibilities.'
